UNSCR 1325: Strengths

International law

- Article 25, UN Charter

Global Constituency - 1325 Advocates Around the World

- Civil Society groups - grassroots organizations, international NGOs
- United Nations - headquarters, field
- Governments
- Media
- Academia

Supported & complemented by other international agreements and statements

- Convention on the Elimination of All forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW), Beijing Platform for Action...
- WPS resolutions (1820, 1888, 1889, 1960, 2106 & 2122) support and reinforce resolution 1325
- CEDAW GR 30

UNSCR 1325: Weaknesses and Challenges

- Lack of accountability and reporting mechanism
 - Few means for monitoring performance or redress when not fully implemented
- No benchmarks and timelines
 - Absence of actual quotas for the numbers of women in high level positions
- View as resolution imposed by a small group of member states in the Security Council
- Weak language
 - UNSCR 1325: expresses, emphasizes, requests, calls upon
 - Compare UNSCR 1373 (Counter-Terrorism): decides, directs, declares

Weaknesses continued...

- Lack of political will among Member States and within UN system
- Lack of dedicated funding for implementation
- Lack of ownership at the national level
- Peace Negotiations
 - Women's participation in official peace processes still a challenge
- DDR
 - Lack of efforts in re-integrating female ex-combatants
- Peacekeeping Personnel
 - Low number of female staff in peace keeping missions at senior level and particularly among uniformed personnel

Supporting Resolutions on WPS

UNSCR 1820 (June 2008)

Focuses on sexual violence in conflict, use of rape and other forms of sexual violence as a weapon of war.

Parties to armed conflict must:

- Stop sexual violence, enforce command responsibility, and protect civilians from sexual violence including by vetting suspected perpetrators from armed forces and by evacuating civilians at risk.
- Categorically prohibit amnesty for war crimes of sexual violence.

States must:

- Build awareness of and take steps to prevent sexual violence including through contributing women peacekeeping personnel
- Provide training to troops on the prevention of sexual violence.
- Apply a policy of zero tolerance to acts of sexual exploitation and abuse committed by UN peacekeepers
- Develop measures to improve protection and assistance, particularly in relation to justice and health systems.

Security Council must:

- Address root causes of sexual violence to expose myths about the inevitability and non-preventability of sexual violence in war.
- Include sexual violence as a criterion in country specific sanctions regime if relevant.

CSO Survey

undertaken by GNWP, the NGO Working Group on WPS, and partners

- To bridge national and local level initiatives with High-level Review process and Global Study
- To ensure that CSO voices and priorities are accurately reflected in the Global Study:
 - Inform global study
- Target Groups:
 - Input: CSOs in conflict and post-conflict contexts
 - Output: members of UN Inter-agency Standing Committee on Women and Peace and Security; and the Expert Author of the Global Study and her team

Outputs and Outcomes

Outputs

- Compilation and analysis of survey results, including:
 - 1) Concrete recommendations on priority actions and mechanisms to push forth actions with a positive impact on the lives of women and girls;
 - 2) Recommendations modalities of civil society-government-UN partnership on UNSCR 1325 implementation

Outcomes

- Voices and priorities of women in conflict-affected communities are adequately reflected in Global Study
- Mechanisms are set up to fast track actions that have had positive impact on the lives of women and girls
- Inefficient or harmful actions intended to have a positive impact on the lives of women and girls are recognized as harmful with steps taken toward eliminating these and redirecting toward actions supporting women's wellbeing and rights
- Enhanced coordination and collaboration among civil society, government and UN entities on UNSCR 1325 implementation

Timeline

- August – September 2014: Drafting of survey
- October 2014 – February 2015: Dissemination to women civil society groups in conflict affected areas; in-country Focus Discussion Groups on the survey; Key Informant Interviews
- March 2015: Data analysis and feed into Global Study; Launch of the Survey Key Findings during the Commission on the Status of Women
